In December 2018, Alaska enacted new legislation for individuals who need decision-making assistance. Supported Decision Making Agreements are legal agreements that allow the person needing assistance to receive support from trusted individuals, rather than assigning a surrogate decision-maker. Join Lisa Wawrzonek, Administrator for the Alaska State Association for Guardianship and Advocacy, to learn about the Supported Decision Making Agreements program and how it is an available option for many older adults.

Free to attend! Registration required. Share with friends and family.
